Waterford Board of Education Approves Administrative Appointments

January 19, 2007 Waterford, Mich. – The Waterford Board of Education approved the appointment of Craig Blomquist as principal of Crary Middle School. Blomquist was hired as a teacher at Waterford Mott High School in 1990 and appointed assistant principal in 2002 at Mott. Blomquist received his Masters Degree from Oakland University and earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan. Blomquist replaces Lynn Fairbrother Kosinski who was appointed secondary education supervisor.

Lynn Fairbrother Kosinski assumed the role of secondary education supervisor with the appointment of Robert R. Neu, former secondary education director, as superintendent. Kosinski joined the Waterford School District in 1988 as a teacher at Adams Elementary School. She was appointed principal at Cooley Elementary School in 1992 and in 2002 became the principal at Crary Middle School. She received her master's degree from Oakland University and earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan.
